Greeting all;

We would like to thank all the students who posted their pictures and stories in our project folder. We really had a wonderful time reading your stories. We appreciate « Grusca Dumitri » for all of his amazing efforts. We wanted to connect with you through Zoom but we could not manage it early as students had so many exams and school braks but we hope to in the coming projects. We really learned about many sites from your contribution since so many Moroccan people choose to study in Russia. Thank you so much for all your outstanding efforts.

Everyday pictures

Korolev, Russia

By Sofiya Gizatulina

Every morning when I go to school, I pass by the music school of our city. There is a picture painted on the wall of the music school. The painting depicts two astronauts. Seeing them always makes me think about our city and the person the city was named after. Sergey Pavlovich Korolev was an engineer who brought a lot to space exploration. Under his leadership, the launch of the first artificial Earth satellite and a spacecraft piloted by the first cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin was organized and carried out. The memory of his achievements, when I look at the wall, always makes me proud of our country and determined to do something equally important for humanity.

When I leave school, I always pass by the writers' lane in our city park. And you know, every time I think about what great people lived on our planet and how much they did for us, I want to do something for the society. There are many posters on the lane dedicated to different writers and each of them made a contribution to the society, in addition to the posters there are also gazebos for reading with books by great Russian authors inside.

On my way to school, I pass by the park of "Space explorers".

There is also a convenient pedestrian zone with many benches, an Art School, an amazing fountain, an ice rink and a monument to Sergei Korolev and Yuri Gagarin. Every time I walk past the square, I admire the monumentality of the buildings.

This part of the city is most associated with Sergei Korolev, after whom our city is named. This square was named in honor of the great feat of the working people.

100 years ago, no one could have imagined that people would be able to fly into space, but it happened thanks to the work of so many people.

This motivates me to believe that everything can be achieved, the main thing is to believe in my dreams and possibilities.

Every evening when I leave class, I see this monument. It reminds me of what a great city I live in. In our city, one of the main attractions is the monument to Sergei Korolev, our city is named after him. Sergey Korolev is a Soviet scientist, designer of rocket and space systems. Twice Hero of Socialist Labor. Academician of the USSR Academy of Sciences. Corresponding member of the Academy of Artillery Sciences. Chairman of the Council of Chief Designers of the USSR. Winner of the Lenin Prize. Colonel. It was in our science city that he lived most of his life and developed a mock-up of the rocket on which the first cosmonaut, Yuri Gagarin, flew into space.

This photo shows the memorial of glory. It is dedicated to the fallen soldiers during the Great Patriotic War (the war with Nazi Germany). Our school has one tradition: every year, on the eve of May 9 (the date of the end of the war), we go to the memorial to honor the memory of the heroes. If you stand with your back to the monument, you can see the alley and there are monuments to tanks that children climb and I climbed there many years ago. I usually ride an electric scooter in the alley. I can also remember how I once had an amazing greeting on May 9th with fireworks when I was younger. To the left of the monument we have a water utility or ravine (as I call it). In spring and autumn, I walk either alone or with friends, and in winter I go skiing. It is good to walk among the trees, which may resemble a forest. All in all, this place is one of my favorite places and it's a pity that you can't fully see this place.

At the entrance to the city of Korolev there is a monument in the form of a rocket. Sergey Pavlovich Korolev developed the R-2 rocket, which became the basis of the monument at the entrance to the city. This landmark has been standing for more than 25 years. The weight of the rocket is more than 1,500 kg. The rocket looks very beautiful. It is completely white in color, made of reinforced concrete. The monument is very large and the rocket only decorates a beautiful city. Everyone who enters the city can admire this magnificent monument. I am proud to live in this city.

Every time I go to school, I see our city park. This place is in front of our school. The park is not very big, but, in my opinion, it is one of the best places in Korolev. It was renovated a few years ago. There are playgrounds, tennis tables, several attractions and a fountain. Concerts are often held in the park.

This is a very popular place in our city. People come here at any time of the year to take a break from the routine and take a walk. This place can leave you with pleasant memories on all day. If you ever stay in the city of Korolev, I recommend that you visit this place.

Every morning, on my way to school, I walk through a beautiful park in my city. This picture shows the main alley in the park. In autumn, it looks amazing because the trees turn bright yellow, orange and red. The colorful leaves make me feel happy and peaceful, even on cold, cloudy days. Walking here every day helps me start my day with a good mood and calm thoughts.

The park is different each day. Sometimes I see dew drops on the leaves in the early morning, making them sparkle. Other times, after it rains, the ground looks fresh and clean. As winter comes closer, there's even frost on the grass, which looks beautiful in the morning light.

This park gives me a quiet moment to think before school. It reminds me to appreciate nature and notice the small, beautiful things around me. This alley isn't just a way to school, it's a place that makes daily routine feel special

Everytime I go to school I see this picture on the wall of our Leisure Centre. It's a portrait of a great man Sergei Korolev , whose name's become the name of our city . He was an engineer and he constructed the first satellite and the first rocket. The picture symbolizes that our city is a city of astronautics. Personally , when I look at this painting I feel pride to live in such an important city.

In the second picture there is like a graffiti on the wall . It's very old and it's been there for as long as I can remember. I don't know the history of this painting. However, it's dedicated to space themes too . We can see a rocket and a head of astronaut there . When I look at the astronaut's helmet , I see that glare on the glass make a face which accompanies me with a glance when I pass it . I can't stop seeing this strange face . This painting's become native for me.

Every day, when I go to school, I see these attractions. Looking at them,

I remember how I rode them as a child.

They are built in my favourite city park.

When I leave school, I often pass by the stadium in our town of Făleşti. And you know, every time I look at it, I think about how much potential it has to become a place that truly brings people together. The stadium has seen countless matches and events over the years, and each time I imagine how many dreams have been shaped there, how many moments of joy and teamwork it has witnessed. Around the stadium, there are a few benches where people sit to watch games, but I dream of a day when there will also be modern facilities, better lighting, and maybe even a small area dedicated to the history of sports in Făleşti. It's not just a place for sports — it's a space that could inspire and unite our community even more.

When I leave school, I often pass by the Consiliul Raional Fălești and the majestic eagle monument nearby. Every time I see them, I think about how much they represent the strength and pride of our town. The Consiliul Raional is not just a government building; it's a place where decisions are made that shape our community's future. Right next to it, the eagle monument stands tall, a powerful symbol of freedom and resilience. It feels like the two are connected — one representing leadership and responsibility, and the other inspiring us to rise above challenges. Each time I pass by, I feel a sense of hope and determination to contribute something meaningful to our town.

The Fălești bus station stands as a gateway to countless journeys and stories. Each day, people arrive and depart, carrying with them plans, hopes, and memories. The station, with its modest yet purposeful design, reflects the rhythm of the town — steady and connected. Its benches hold quiet moments of anticipation, while the sound of engines and announcements fills the air. For me, it's not just a place for buses; it's a symbol of opportunity, a reminder that no matter where you are, there's always a road leading to something new.

The monument of Pushkin in our town is a notable landmark, dedicated to one of the most renowned poets in history. Surrounded by a peaceful atmosphere, it serves as a reminder of cultural and literary heritage. The area around the monument often attracts those who pause to reflect or appreciate its historical significance. Its presence highlights the enduring influence of Pushkin's work and its place in the broader cultural landscape.

The Casa de Cultură in our town is an important center for community life and cultural events. Its halls have hosted numerous performances, exhibitions, and gatherings, bringing people together to celebrate art and traditions. The building itself stands as a symbol of creativity and expression, providing a space for learning, entertainment, and collaboration. Whether it's a concert, a theater performance, or a local celebration, the Casa de Cultură remains a vital part of the town's identity and cultural heritage.

The monument of Mihai Eminescu in our town is more than just a statue; it is a symbol of Romanian culture and literature, a connection between the past and the present. Positioned in a quiet spot, it catches the eye of passersby and invites those who stop to reflect on the work of the great poet. Eminescu was the voice of an era, and his words continue to resonate in the hearts of Romanians around the world. The monument not only honors his life and legacy but also reminds us of the fundamental values of our national identity: love for language, nature, and an enduring ideal of beauty.

Around the statue, as the years go by, the place takes on a unique atmosphere. Many young people come here to learn about Eminescu, to read his poems, or even to discuss his impact on world literature. It's a space for reflection, but also one of inspiration, where each step deepens our connection to the cultural past. Through this monument, our town keeps alive the memory of a man whose words will live on in history.

The fountain in our town is a simple yet striking feature, offering a peaceful retreat amidst the busyness of everyday life. Its clear waters flow continuously, creating a soothing sound that fills the air with calm. The fountain is more than just a decorative element; it serves as a gathering point, where people pause to relax, chat, or reflect. Surrounded by benches and greenery, it provides a moment of tranquility, especially on warm days when the water's cool mist offers a refreshing respite. It's a reminder of the beauty in the small things, a quiet corner where nature and urban life meet.

Thank you for your attention
